

Restless Souls

I think of all the times we pushed on through
Not knowing where we'd end
And I think of all the people we once knew
What ever happened to them

Endless miles a thousand songs
We're right here where we belong
We can't go back
No, we can't get off this rolling train
Restless souls don't stay too long
We live our dreams
Then move on down the road

It is so easy to get fooled by what we see
When gazing up at the stars
And it is easy to fall
When you climb to the top of a tree
I've earned all of my scars

Endless miles a thousand songs
We're right here where we belong
We can't go back
No, we can't get off this rolling train
Restless souls don't stay too long
We live our dreams
And then move on down the road

Will there come a time when we're tired of moving
And we can't hear the voice in our hearts' calling

Endless miles a thousand songs
We're right here where we belong
We can't go back
No, we can't get off this rolling train
Restless souls don't stay too long
We live our dreams
And then move on down the road
