

Addiction

He picked up his true love
She'd fallen on the floor
Her slim body, the golden band
That made him crave for more

*She is company
Company's her name
When no-one's there
The time he spends with her
Keeps him sane*

He takes her in and sends her out
In rings across the room
she disappears into the dark
He knows that he is doomed

*She is company
Company's her name
When no-one's there
The time he spends with her
Keeps him sane*

Her presence's like a bridal veil
For better or worse
He's wanted out so many times
But she gives him no choice
Till death do them part
He should have known
She kept the ring, the misty veil
In peace he is alone
