

Terje Nordgarden and I had wrote this song inspired by of one of my favourite songs by Norwegian author and lyricist, Alf Prøysen and his song " Du ska få ein dag i mårrå", ..you will have a new day tomorrow...a clean slate. Sometimes we all need a new beginning.

A New Beginning

Light is flowing out through the trees
It's a Spring morning and a soft Zephyr breeze
I'm okay, I'm all right
Just being here
Just being alive

It's a new beginning a fresh start
Nothing is missing
When you know who you are
And it's not about winning or being on top
It's all about giving giving all you got
Giving all you got

I never saw it coming didn't hear a sound
There was no blood when I hit the ground
I remember his face can't recall his words
Just an empty space and an empty world

It's a new beginning, a fresh start
Nothing is missing
When you know who you are
And it's not about winning or being on top
It's all about giving
Giving all you got
Giving all you got
Giving all you got

I wish you all the best, my friend
It's better to let go, than to pretend
And better to have loved than not
In the end,
In the end

It's a new beginning, a fresh start
Nothing is missing
When you know who you are
And it's not about winning, or being on top
It's all about giving
Giving all you got
