

Cry For Us All

(R.Scott/C.Scott)

Cry for the child in the street
Sleeping through the night
On the pavement of the city
Cry for the rich passing by
In carefree ignorance
Of the innocent, born to oblivion

Cry for us all for where we're heading
There's no light
Cry for us all
Already the grey mist of darkness
Is flooding our basements

*And as the life of man
Passes another apocalypse
Pray and hope for the few
Trying to hold back the tide
Of selfish greed
Lonely in their plight*

Cry for us all and what we've lost
In silesilence we agree
To the waste and atrocities
Cry for us all
Sister of hope and amendments
We need your forgiveness

*And as the life of man
Passes another apocalypse
Pray and hope for the few
Trying to hold back the tide
Of selfish greed
Lonely in their plight*
