

The Ferryman

You are not alone
After dark comes light
I'll be by your side
Hold you through the night
I will stay with you

Silence fills the room
Is it still the same
Flowers on the table
Our photo in a frame

Your clothes are in the closet
A chair is by the door
Pictures on the wall
All seems like before

Can you hear the bells
The ferryman has come
In the peaceful morning
He's come to take you home
We will meet again

All we know is gone
It will be no more
Memories are forever
But we're not like before

I keep you in my heart
You're always here with me
In our children's eyes
It is you I see

We will meet again
When our time has come
And we will say farewell
Beat a different drum
And we will meet again
We will meet again
