

Rosy Turned Grey

Looking back seems so surreal
How did it all begin
Five years on an even keel
You'd think we had to win
Invitations, rapping paper
Left in the kitchen drawer
Polaroid's with the family
You've seen it all before

*Candy kisses, dreams and wishes
Is what we had in mind
Silent rows and eyes so distant
Is what we're left to find*

Paris, France in - 89
That's' where it all began
Wine and laughter till early morning
Late brunches in the sun
Summer lasted in into Winter
We kept each other warm
Years went by in such a flicker
Too late to ride the storm

*Candy kisses, dreams and wishes
Is what we had in mind
Silent rows and eyes so distant

If words had wings
I'd make them fly away
And let the things we said not be true
Drown my sorrows in a stream
And wake up to
Another dream

*Candy kisses, dreams and wishes
Is what we had in mind
Silent rows and eyes so distant
