

Love Is

Claudia Scott

If I could bring you the stars
And lighten up your weary heart
I'd save them in a special cup
And help you drink up every drop

If I could take away your sorrows
By having them instead
I'd wash them in a fountain
Scatter them from a mountain

Love is a beautiful child
Sometimes weary and sometimes wild
Love is a curious child
That we carry inside

If I could bring you peace of mind
So you could find happiness
I'd paint a great big sun for you
To bring you warmth and kill the blue

If I could give you all the answers
I'd write them down in a book
And read you stories in the moonlight
Before you go to sleep at night

Love is a beautiful child
Sometimes weary, and sometimes wild
Love is a curious child
That we carry inside
